Your Journey to Excellence*

Target group

- Aged between early 20s to mid-30s.
- Possessing experience in standards development.
- Fluent in oral and written English.
- Employed in a business, industry, association or government body.
- Demonstrating a strong passion for international standardization.

What to expect

- Increased opportunities for young professionals to advance their entry into standardization.
- Networking with global young experts.
- Interactive sessions on latest technical topics.
- Meeting with IEC officials and experienced experts.
- Guidance from experienced tutors.
- Industrial site visits.
- Exploring Chinese culture, traditions and Shenzhen through group activities and guided tours

Costs

Accommodation and catering of the recommended young professionals during the Campaign will be provided by the organizer of China National Young Professional Program. Travel costs will be covered by the participants themselves or the IEC NCs.

Notes: For the observers, accommodation (approximately USD 80-USD120 per night) and travel costs shall be borne by themselves or the IEC NCs, while meals vouchers during the Campaign will be provided by the organizer.

Visa

A Letter of Invitation will be provided to all participants for the activity. This letter will enable participants to apply for a Single Entry F Visa valid for 30 days.

Application & Contact

Each country may recommend only two young professionals. Additionally, one observer from the IEC NC per country is warmly welcomed.

We would appreciate it if IEC NCs could kindly submit the resumes (including basic information, education and work background, experience in standards, etc.) and recent photos of the recommended experts to the Campaign's contact person ( Mr. Xi CHEN (Xavier), email: landeraynor@gmail.com) before 10 May, 2024).
